Artificial Intelligence and Multimodal Systems

Artificial Intelligence is rapidly advancing across multimodal perception and speech synthesis.

By integrating optical document analysis with natural neural voice generation, users can seamlessly convert printed books, legal briefs, technical papers, and digital notes into lifelike spoken audio.

This document verifies that English text, numerals like 2026, and punctuation are recognized accurately and synthesized with crystal-clear voice clarity.